SUMMARY FROM SICILIAN

[redacted] who, possibly, is operating a calculating machine, discusses with one of the two Unmen "where he comes from." He seems to be surprised when he hears the name [redacted] (phonetic. Possibly, [redacted] the last Italian town on the Riviera before entering France.)

The subsequent exchanges are not understandable because of the noise of the calculating machine in operation and because of a radio playing in the background. Possibly, [redacted] is paying out money because one of his statements ends with the word "four" and the Unman's reply includes these words: "And, then, you understand, I have to go to the bank."

The Unman praises one of his companions, possibly, the other Unman present during the conversation. [redacted] wonders who he is talking about. The Unman replies: [redacted] agrees and repeats, at least twice: "He is a good boy." The Unman goes on to say: "We share everything. If there is a potato we eat it together and if there is an acorn, that is what we share." Finally, the Unman says that [redacted] comes home every week. Again, [redacted] agrees with the statements, repeating: "He is a good man."

For all his agreeing, it would appear, however, that [redacted] is not ready to grant the request of the Unman. Possibly, this request is for a job for the man who is being praised. In fact, [redacted] states: "No, I cannot use him. He knows it himself. He knows I talked with the lawyer and I was told nothing doing."

b6

The subsequent exchanges between [redacted] and the bookkeeper are all in English. They concern a check to be made out and to be left on [redacted] desk for his signature.

Upon his arrival he contacted [redacted] a message drop for the subject and his associates, who arranged for PASQUALE NATARELLI to place AGUECI in hiding until plans could be made through [redacted] and through [redacted] to take ALBERT AGUECI back into Canada.

[redacted] stated that his brother told him that he was going to Canada and Buffalo, N.Y., to raise funds for [redacted] bail. ALBERT AGUECI specifically identified STEVE MAGADDINO as the person whom he was going to hold responsible for arranging the bail money. On 6/21/62, informant stated that RANDACCIO appeared at [redacted] shortly after 8:00 that night. RANDACCIO attempted to persuade [redacted] to accompany him to the Park Hotel where he was supposed to meet DANNY. [redacted] refused to go although RANDACCIO told her that she could wait in the bar downstairs while he went upstairs and "talked to the men."

As previously reported, DANIEL G. SANSANESE, a close associate of RANDACCIO, fled Buffalo, N. Y. to avoid arrest by the New York State Police on a warrant charging him with submitting false documents to the New York State Bureau of Motor Vehicles. It was also reported that SANSANESE and his girl friend had left Buffalo, N. Y. for Florida about the time the indictment against him was returned by the Erie County Grand Jury.

The information concerning the possible location of SANSANESE was furnished [redacted], New York State Police. [redacted] was advised that an informant of the Buffalo Office had furnished information indicating that DANIEL SANSANESE was at the Park Hotel in either Lancaster, N. Y. or Lockport, N. Y.

[redacted] later telephonically contacted SA(A) [redacted] and advised him that members of the New York State Police had placed the Park Hotel in Lancaster, N. Y. and the Park Hotel in Lockport, N. Y. under surveillance in an attempt to locate SANSANESE without success.

On 6/22/62, [redacted] telephonically advised that SANSANESE was identified as being present on the night of 6/21/62 at the Park Hotel with a heavy-set, blond-haired woman believed to be in her early thirties. Due to the fact that the surveillance troopers did not recognize him at the time, the apprehension was not made.

This property would supposedly be used in the near future to build a $20,000,000 shopping plaza and housing development. Information has also been developed that Randaccio, Magaddino and others from this organization are undoubtedly involved in a narcotics smuggling ring operating out of New York City and Canada. The Federal Narcotics Bureau is vigorously investigating this matter and the New York State Police are vigorously pushing the murder of Albert Agueci. Agueci was found murdered 11/23/61 in a field near Rochester, New York, and subsequent information strongly indicates that certain members of the Magaddino organization killed Agueci.

This property would supposedly be used in the near future to build a $20,000,000 shopping plaza and housing development. Information has also been developed that Randaccio, Magaddino and others from this organization are undoubtedly involved in a narcotics smuggling ring operation out of New York City and Canada. The Federal Narcotics Bureau is vigorously investigating this matter and the New York State Police are vigorously pushing the murder of Albert Agueci. Agueci was found murdered 11/23/61 in a field near Rochester, New York, and subsequent information strongly indicates that certain members of the Magaddino organization killed Agueci.

[redacted] about being picked up the other day, [redacted] pointed out that [redacted] of the Buffalo PD, and Federal Narcotics Agent [redacted] had picked him up for questioning. [redacted] expressed his anger and resentment at having been picked up for questioning about the gangland shooting of PASCAL POLITANO, aka "Pontoloon," on 7/23/62. [redacted] stated that the following had been picked up with him for questioning in this shooting: DANIEL G. SANSENESE, FRED G. RANDACCIO, SAM BONITO, aka "Georgie Raft," EDWARD V. SCILLIA and ROY CARLISI.

According to [redacted] Buffalo Police Commissioner HOWARD FINNEY originally issued instructions to have all of them picked up and brought to Headquarters. However, [redacted] had stopped this action after informing Commissioner FINNEY "the boys" would cooperate and come down to the station if they were called.

At 11:40 AM, the subject contacted the Delaware Texaco Service Center and advised [redacted] that he was coming down to [redacted] office.

At 11:42 AM, [redacted] obtained the telephone number of VINCENT MANZELLA, a disbarred Buffalo attorney with offices in the Morgan Building, Buffalo, from the telephone operator. [redacted] then attempted to locate MANZELLA in his office and left a message for MANZELLA that he, [redacted] was coming down to the Morgan Building and would wait for MANZELLA to come down.

At 11:45 AM, MANZELLA contacted [redacted] at which time, [redacted] discussed the return of funds advanced to MANZELLA for an undisclosed property development deal. [redacted] warned MANZELLA that he, [redacted] was in trouble and suggested that MANZELLA leave town. He pointed out to MANZELLA that he felt sorry for him. However, he told MANZELLA, "You're going to get it," and thought it would be better if MANZELLA would make himself scarce. MANZELLA attempted to explain to [redacted] that he had been unable to close on the deal involving someone in Auburn, N.Y. MANZELLA said that he had stopped in earlier that day to see [redacted] (possibly [redacted] of the Peace Bridge Motel, Buffalo) and had left for Auburn in connection with his efforts to close on this deal. [redacted] explained to MANZELLA that he was only calling him (MANZELLA) for MANZELLA's benefit and he did not care what MANZELLA did.

BU 92-174

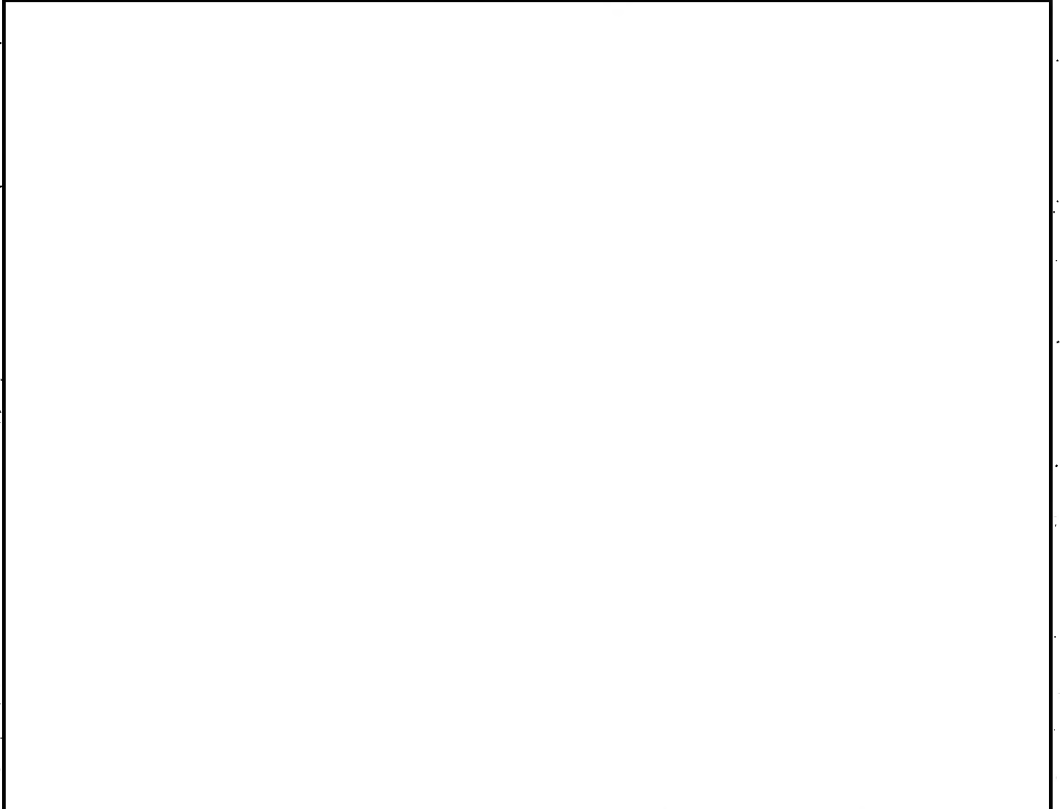

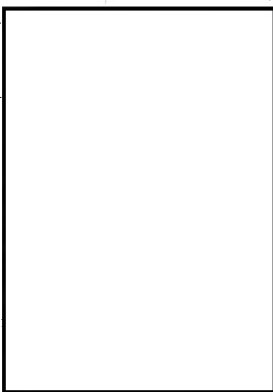

He told MANZELLA that he was talking to him from his Delaware Avenue office and that there was no one there but him [REDACTED]. He further stated that no one knew that he was warning MANZELLA about the possibilities of what may happen in the event MANZELLA did not come up with the funds. At the conclusion of this conversation, informant reported that [REDACTED] stated that if anything should happen to MANZELLA, "they" could only pick him up.

It is possible that RANDACCIO has demanded the return of $5000 which he put up as part of a large property development deal to be handled by MANZELLA and that MANZELLA is not in a position to return these funds to RANDACCIO.

b7E

On 8/1/62, [REDACTED] advised that someone referred to as [REDACTED] appeared at the office of [REDACTED] Buffalo. The informant reported the following conversations between [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

BU 92-174

The identify of the [redacted] in the above conversation is unknown at this time. It is apparent that the [redacted] has requested [redacted] to contact the subject to see if the subject can be used in order to force collection of a commission due the unidentified [redacted] on a property sale.

The informant stated that later that day, VICTOR RANDACCIO, Secretary-Treasurer of the Hod Carriers and Common Laborers Union, Local #210 at Buffalo, visited [redacted]

[redacted] in his office at the [redacted] [redacted] explained his conversations with VINCENT MANZELLA to VICTOR RANDACCIO, who is the brother of subject, and the trouble MANZELLA was in. [redacted] pointed out to VICTOR RANDACCIO that he informed MANZELLA that he, MANZELLA, should not come back to Buffalo when he leaves. He stated that MANZELLA had called FRED RANDACCIO at his home last night and they were to meet on the morning of 8/2/62.

In another conversation, VICTOR RANDACCIO discussed being at Snowball's (Panaro's Lounge, Hampshire St., Buffalo) last night and some of the boys brought in some "young broads," "took them down to the basement and stripped them."

In another conversation, [redacted] advised VICTOR RANDACCIO of the danger of having firearms around the house where children can get at them. VICTOR RANDACCIO stated that "about the time of Apalachin," he had three guns, kept them in the attic in a storage chest. He said that the kids knew the guns were there. He had turned the guns over to [redacted]

[redacted] (possibly [redacted]) RANDACCIO described the guns as an Italian automatic he had bought from someone who had come out of the army, a silver pistol, .32 caliber, and another black pistol. He pointed out he had thrown the bullets for these guns away.

On 8/2/62, informant advised that the subject had left word for [redacted] that he could be reached at his home. Later, RANDACCIO contacted [redacted] and asked why [redacted] had not called him. He also inquired if [redacted] had called "that bum." [redacted] said, "Yeh, that s o b . I talked to that woman. She said, 'He's not in yet.' I said, 'You have him call. I had an appointment.' My God! That Manzella kept me tied up all day yesterday. I said, 'He's not in yet? Does he want me to come and sit in front of the office and wait for him?' She said, 'Well, he's not in.' She says, 'If he comes in I'll have him call you right away.'"

RANDACCIO: "Do you think we should go up there?"

[redacted] "Whatever you think. Whatever you say. If you want to go in about a half an hour, I will go. I just got here. I tried to get some medicine. My kidneys have been bothering me."

b6

The conversation ended at this point and RANDACCIO informed [redacted] that he would be at home at 2:30 and [redacted] said he would call him.

VICTOR RANDACCIO, who was present during the above conversation, then talked with subject and after a brief conversation, subject pointed out that he would come to [redacted] office and meet them for lunch.

At 12:45 PM, MANZELLA telephonically contacted [redacted] and apologized for the misunderstanding about meeting on 8/1/62.

With reference to the unidentified property development deal, MANZELLA attempted to explain that he was trying to get someone to make an advance before closing the deal and that he would get in touch with [redacted] the next morning. [redacted] informed MANZELLA that he had to come up with $5000 and they didn't want to know any more about his closing on the deal since that was strictly MANZELLA's problem.

Your office should remain alert to learn which unions are being supplied eyeglasses by the subject's optical business. If possible, your office should consider checking bank sources as well as informants in this regard.

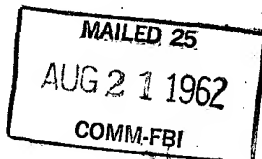

It is possible the subject's business supplies eyeglasses to welfare plans of unions which furnish treatment to union members. In that event, it would be possible for him to pay kickbacks to the operators of a welfare plan in return for orders being placed with his company by a welfare plan. Such kickbacks could be arranged by the subject charging the welfare plan an excessive amount for eyeglasses he supplied and when the welfare plan paid the bill, the excessive amount could be kicked back to certain parties.

By this means a portion of the funds of the welfare plan would be considered to be converted to the use of another in violation of the embezzlement prohibitions in the Welfare and Pension Plans Disclosure Act (WPPDA) which is a felony. In the event any such possibility is discovered, it should be discussed with the U. S. Attorney and the Bureau should be advised under a separate case caption, in accordance with instructions pertaining to WPPDA.

Informant advised that during the day, EDDIE (possibly EDDIE SCILLIA) visited [redacted] at his office in the Delaware Texaco Service Center. SCILLIA asked [redacted] if subject was working and [redacted] informed him that the subject was "on the job" and that he had dinner with FRED RANDACCIO the night before. Informant stated that EDDIE SCILLIA was interested in knowing whether or not RANDACCIO was the person who had telephoned asking for [redacted] possibly [redacted]. [redacted] told SCILLIA that he doubted that RANDACCIO would be the person trying to contact [redacted] inasmuch as there is not a telephone at the place where the subject is located. b6 b7C

According to [redacted] telephonically called [redacted] telephone number TF 2-4844, [redacted] apparently in an effort to determine whether or not RANDACCIO was trying to get in touch with [redacted]. After failing to reach [redacted] telephonically contacted CECILIA RANDACCIO, the subject's wife, and was informed that RANDACCIO was "on the job." EDDIE SCILLIA, after being advised that it could not have been the subject who was trying to call [redacted] that morning, pointed out to [redacted] that whoever called told [redacted] that it had something to do with horses. [redacted] stated that RANDACCIO could not call [redacted] and that "it's got to be the other guy." [redacted] further stated "I don't know what he's got, EDDIE. What I do know. Maybe he wants to put a [redacted] in or something [redacted] I don't know." (It's possible that RANDACCIO was engaged in setting up a telephone in the horse book and was not in position to contact [redacted] a well-known bookmaker in the Buffalo area at that time.) b2 b6 b7C

Informant further stated that [redacted] informed EDDIE SCILLIA that everyone at SNOWBALL's has won from $700 to $900 recently on the horses and identified [redacted] and [redacted] as among those who had won heavily on the horses. b6 b7C

In another conversation, EDDIE (EDDIE SCILLIA) asked [redacted] about the health of DANNY (DANIEL SANSANESE, SR.). EDDIE voiced his resentment in anger over the arrest of DANNY SANSANESE and [redacted] speculated that "it had to be an American (obscene) that did it." It was apparent that [redacted] was speculating as to who would have been the person to have tipped off the New York State Police concerning the whereabouts of SANSANESE. b6 b7C

After EDDIE SCILLIA departed, [ ] received a telephone call from STEVE (possibly New York State Assemblyman STEPHEN GRECO) and arrangements were made for them to get together at the club that night. (possibly the Andrew Valledolmo Club, 131-7th Street, Buffalo, N. Y.).

Shortly before noontime, [ ] received a telephone call from VICTOR RANDACCIO, the subject's brother, and [ ] asked VICTOR RANDACCIO if he, VICTOR, had straightened out the strike. It is possible that [ ] was referring to labor trouble on the construction of the new Post Office Building in Buffalo between the Hod Carriers and Common Laborers Union, Local 210, and the Iron Workers Union.

During the period 8/7-9/62, informant reported no pertinent information relating to the subject or his associates.

[redacted] advised he leased the bingo pavilion at Liberty Park, Cheektowaga, New York, from the owner, sometime in about April, 1956, and operated it until the summer of 1958 when a State law was enacted restricting the operation of bingo games to charitable organizations only. He stated he made the lease in his name and immediately assigned it to Vinsco Company, a company composed of himself and FRED RANDACCIO. He stated the business was actually operated by a man whose name he can not recall. This man received a percentage of the profits and the remaining profits were divided equally between himself and RANDACCIO.

[redacted] stated he got into the business as a result of a request from the man who operated the game. This man wanted to handle the game himself and could not get the lease from the owner. He stated he did not know if this inability to get the lease was due to lack of funds or reluctance on the part of the owner.

[redacted] stated he has no idea as to the profits realized on the venture but is certain he reported any profits as income on his Federal and New York State income tax returns.

He stated he has known FRED RANDACCIO and feels certain RANDACCIO would report his income fully.

[redacted] stated the Vinsco Company was incorporated under the laws of the State of New York and the financial and operating regulations fully complied with.

ILLEGAL ACTIVITIES

NARCOTICS SMUGGLING

As previously reported BU T-1 furnished information relating to the participation of FRED G. RANDACCIO and his associates with ALBERT AGUECI and [redacted] also known as [redacted]. [redacted] and AGUECI were two of several American and Canadian citizens who were indicted in New York City charging them with conspiracy to violate the Federal narcotic laws. AGUECI was the victim of a gangland murder by unknown assailants around Thanksgiving, 1961. His badly charred and garroted body was found by hunters in a field near Rochester, New York.

BU T-1 also furnished information that this subject was directly involved in the assassination of ALBERT AGUECI.

On May 2, 1962, [redacted] Federal Bureau of Narcotics at New York City, and [redacted] an Agent for this Bureau, advised that ALBERT AGUECI, after posting bail, did not stay in New York City as far as their previous investigation disclosed, but went to Toronto, Canada, and attempted to shake down different people in order to obtain money for the release of his brother, [redacted] who was still in jail in New York City. [redacted] advised that before leaving New York City, ALBERT AGUECI told his brother he was going to different persons, including STEVE MAGADDINO, to ask them to help out or else he would cause trouble.

On May 18, 1962, BU T-2 advised that he had received information that [redacted] while incarcerated in New York City facing Federal narcotic charges, had furnished information to Narcotic Agents that STEVE MAGADDINO of Niagara Falls, New York, had agreed to arrange the distribution of narcotics through the Buffalo, New York area with ALBERT AGUECI, [redacted]

[redacted] BU T-2 stated that someone in Canada known only as [redacted] (phonetic) was instrumental in arranging terms with MAGADDINO. BU T-2 further stated that the AGUECI brothers later contacted [redacted] and FRANK CARUSO in New York City in order to obtain additional funds to buy a larger quantity of narcotics in Europe. BU T-2 stated that he had also received information that prior to leaving New York City on bail, ALBERT AGUECI made a remark to his brother, [redacted] that if MAGADDINO in Niagara Falls, New York, did not help him raise bail for [redacted] he, ALBERT AGUECI, was "going to blow the whistle on the entire ring". [redacted] allegedly warned his brother, ALBERT AGUECI that he should not go to [redacted] because of the fact that if ALBERT AGUECI lost his temper he, ALBERT AGUECI, was going to be killed.

ALBERT AGUECI after leaving New York City was reported to have contacted either [redacted] or [redacted] a Canadian attorney, before contacting MAGADDINO in his efforts to raise bail money.

BU T-2 stated that [redacted] is related in some way to [redacted] who is a business partner and associate of [redacted] of the Why Not Restaurant in Buffalo. [redacted] ROY CARLISI, one of the delegates to the Apalachin meeting, and [redacted] had been designated to handle narcotic traffic by STEVE MAGADDINO and FRED RANDACCIO. GAMBLING ACTIVITIES

On May 9, 1962, BU T-7 advised that VITO DOMIANO, also known as Buck Jones, of 1 Crestwood Street, Buffalo, New York, now deceased, operated a shoe store in a partnership with another man on Chippewa Street in Buffalo. BU T-7 explained that he was well acquainted with the fact that DOMIANO was the "number one man" in the operation of the numbers rackets in Buffalo, New York, prior to his death. BU T-7 stated that DOMIANO was well regarded by gamblers as a "reasonable and just man." He stated that DOMIANO was appointed by STEVE MAGADDINO of Niagara Falls, New York, to organize the numbers rackets in Buffalo and to work with [redacted] the [redacted] of North Park Furniture Company and Kaufman's Bakery in Buffalo. He stated that [redacted] was a principal financial backer behind all numbers operations in the Buffalo area prior to DOMIANO's death. According to BU T-7, [redacted] a former [redacted] of [redacted] continued to handle a large portion of the numbers rackets in Buffalo for [redacted] after DOMIANO's death.

BU T-7 stated that [redacted] did not have the brains nor the backing to operate this racket and [redacted] later fired him because he considered [redacted] a "lush" and not devoting enough time to the numbers rackets. Later [redacted] opened up a furniture store on Elmwood Avenue in Buffalo with a partner of Polish extraction. He stated this business was thrown into bankruptcy shortly thereafter and the matter is still pending in Bankruptcy Court, Buffalo.

In regards to FRED RANDACCIO, BU T-7 explained that RANDACCIO was feared by most of the bookmakers and gamblers in the Buffalo area because of his strong-arm tactics and RANDACCIO did not earn the respect afforded VITO DOMIANO. BU T-7 commented that while VITO DOMIANO was the number one man in the numbers rackets in Buffalo there was very little trouble among gamblers and bookmakers and "at least there were no killings." The informant was unable to furnish any specific information concerning any particular murder in which RANDACCIO was responsible.

In further discussion of gangland murders in Buffalo, BU T-7 commented that he was one of many individuals who was interrogated on several occasions by local law enforcement

As previously reported, BU T-1 furnished information relating to a meeting at Buffalo, New York on November 28, 1961, between STEVE MAGADDINO, FRED G. RANDACCIO, DANIEL SANSANESE and several others.

The informant advised that during this meeting, RANDACCIO questioned SANSANESE at some length concerning the operations of a large crap game in Canada. The informant stated that during the meeting, SANSANESE referred to "THE FRENCHMAN" as the person who owned the crap game in Canada and further described him as a "real schemer."

According to BU T-1, [redacted] aka [redacted] and [redacted] (PH) also had an interest in the gambling operations in the Hamilton and Toronto, Ontario area. The informant learned through this meeting that while DANNY SANSANESE had an interest in these gambling operations, "GEORGIE RAFT" (SAMUEL BONITA) was acting as a runner between Montreal and Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. It was brought out during this meeting that SANSANESE can no longer appear at these gambling locations in Canada for some unknown reason. In discussing other associates of RANDACCIO's, BU T-3 advised that SAM MIANO apparently operates Miano's Italian Restaurant on Millersport Highway near Sheridan Drive in the Town of Amherst, New York, who is well known by [REDACTED] [REDACTED] as a thief who will handle hot merchandise.

It is possible that MIANO referred to by BU T-3 is SALVATORE THOMAS MIANO, FBI No. 2953115, whose arrest record includes such charges as robbery first degree, counterfeiting and extortion. The files of the Buffalo Office contain the results of an investigation of MIANO wherein [REDACTED] was alleged to be a victim of an extortion plot perpetrated by MIANO at a large construction project in Niagara Falls, New York in 1959 and 1960.

BU T-3 stated that MIANO contacted someone visiting Buffalo to see if arrangements could be made for a fence to dispose of a stolen coin collection which MIANO indicated was some place in Florida. The informant also advised that one of MIANO's contacts in Canada could put the fence in touch with a man in Canada who also had several valuable paintings which had been stolen in Germany and smuggled into Canada. BU T-3 stated that based upon information he had received these paintings had been stolen again after they were smuggled into Canada and the theft had been reported to the Canadian authorities. In order to get a price for these paintings,

MIANO was contemplating photographing the stolen paintings before they were delivered into the United States and the photographs were to be used by the fence in discussing their sale in the United States. The informant reported that the unidentified person who has possession of these paintings in Canada would get 25% of the proceeds of the sale. The informant further stated that MIANO had mentioned the name [redacted] who had some connection with a warehouse in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, and that there is a possibility that this warehouse will be burned or there are plans to burn the warehouse.

The files of the Buffalo Office contain information relating to a [redacted] aka [redacted] FBI No. [redacted] and also known by the Miami Beach Police Department under their No. [redacted]. Information received from sources in Canada disclosed that [redacted] is married to the [redacted] of [redacted] who resided at one time at [redacted] Illinois. The Chicago Office reported that [redacted] is closely associated with hotel burglars and jewel thieves in Canada.

In discussing the possibility that the stolen jewelry and paintings could be fenced in the Buffalo area, [redacted] stated that he had learned through his contacts with associates of RANDACCIO's that [redacted] is handling [redacted] at the Variety Store, 278 West Ferry Street, Buffalo. He stated that [redacted] on several occasions has contacted his associates and discussed the possibility of fencing stolen jewelry "down South." The informant stated that [redacted] was reported to have hidden stolen jewelry in the bottom of cans of paint at his place of business or his home in Buffalo. He stated that he had also received information that other stolen merchandise has been secreted in barrels, the location of which is unknown to BU T-3.

The informant continued that [redacted] of [redacted] New York, is a contact man [redacted] in the Buffalo area and will break up [redacted] in order that the [redacted] cannot be identified. He stated that [redacted] is the [redacted] of B. J. Pallas Company, [redacted] concern at 559 Main Street, Buffalo, New York.

In discussing the possible locations in Florida where jewelry could be fenced, BU T-3 stated [redacted] a close associate of the subject, and [redacted] has a contact in Florida known as GEORGE RICH who could be contacted at the Ambassador Hotel "Second Street track", apparently in Miami, Florida. The informant reported that [redacted] resides at [redacted] in [redacted] and about six months or a year ago [redacted] was operating a horse phone over telephone number [redacted]. The informant advised that any contact with GEORGE RICH in Florida by anyone attempting to fence jewelry should inform RICH that [redacted] had sent him. He pointed out that [redacted] is a niece or some [redacted] of GEORGE RICH who is living with [redacted] in [redacted].

Information reported by various law enforcement agencies in Canada disclose the possibility that GEORGE RICH is SAM RITCH, Buffalo Police Department No. 13562, born December 5, 1897, in Stamford, Connecticut. SAM RITCH is a well-known Canadian gambler and bookmaker who was reported to be operating the Variety Store in Niagara Falls, Ontario, Canada.

In June, 1961, [redacted] in charge of the Gambling Squad, Buffalo Police Department, determined through telephone call checks that [redacted] had placed telephone calls through a number registered to [redacted] at the King Edward Hotel and the Seaway Specialties Company, 383 Queen Street, West, Toronto, which was previously operated by [redacted].

It should be noted that on January 29, 1962, BU T-4 advised that FRED RANDACCIO was contacted that morning by someone from Rochester, New York. He stated that RANDACCIO was furious because this unidentified man had contacted him by telephone and identified himself as a person who had sold him some jewelry.

On the same day BU T-5 reported that RANDACCIO, SAM MIANO, FRED S. MOGAVERO, ROY CARLISTI and PASQUALE NATARELLI had met an unidentified man at the Delaware Texaco Service Center in Buffalo, New York, where they discussed the precautions necessary in disposing of some jewelry. The informant was unable to furnish any additional information relating to this jewelry other than the fact that one piece of jewelry was a greenish colored stone having about twenty-five points.

On May 4 and May 7, 1962, BU T-3 advised that FRED RANDACCIO is involved in a deal wherein he, RANDACCIO, is to locate someone who can exchange a large sum of money into bills of a small denomination.

BU T-3 stated that after RANDACCIO returned from Florida in April of 1962, RANDACCIO met with his associates at Panaro's Lounge on Hampshire Street in Buffalo. He stated that RANDACCIO mentioned the fact that he wanted to locate someone who could exchange $100,000 made up in $1,000 bills for bills of a smaller denomination. He stated that someone employed by a bank in Buffalo would handle this deal if RANDACCIO could arrange a transfer through a third party. RANDACCIO complained of the fact that the person with whom he had discussed this deal had turned him down because the unidentified person thought he was being set up as a "patsy." RANDACCIO was warned that this deal would be hard to handle because most banks are alert to any deal involving an exchange of cash for $2,000 or more, and that they will normally notify the Bureau of Internal Revenue of such transactions. According to RANDACCIO, the $100,000 is made up in $1,000 bills and was considered "clean money", and had offered a commission of $1500 to the person who could make this exchange. It was the informant's impression that there is additional funds involved which are not made up in $1,000 bills.

On May 4, 1962, BU T-3 advised that RANDACCIO and MIANO have two contacts identified only as "two Jews in Ohio" who would handle stolen merchandise, however, RANDACCIO has mentioned the fact that he does not prefer to deal with these two unidentified individuals.

BU T-3 explained that SAM MIANO employs a part-time chef at his restaurant on Millersport Highway whom he knows only as [redacted]. According to BU T-3, [redacted] speaks very little English and has offered to buy MIANO's car if [redacted] can obtain a motor vehicle driver's license.

On May 7, 1962, [redacted] Immigration and Naturalization Service, advised that he had gone to MIANO's restaurant that day to question one [redacted] an Italian immigrant concerning his immigration status. [redacted] stated that [redacted] was not available for interview and while he was talking with SAM MIANO two men entered the restaurant whom he identified as FRED G. RANDACCIO and [redacted]. [redacted] stated that he did not know the purpose of RANDACCIO and [redacted] visit to the restaurant that day.

On November 28, 1961, a meeting was held at Buffalo, New York between STEVE MAGADDINO, RANDACCIO and DANIEL SANSANESE. Information furnished by this informant relating to gambling activities in Canada has been previously reported.

BU T-1 noted during this meeting that DANIEL SANSANESE attempted to explain the activities of a group of gamblers in Canada who are engaged in either smuggling gold or bonds of some description into the United States. SANSANESE advised the informant that one member of this Canadian group had made a profit of $10,000.00 on some deal down in Philadelphia, and the informant understood that a Canadian known as [ ] participated in a deal involving Canadian bonds.

BU T-1 stated that he learned from SANSANESE that a few years ago, SAM SALLI and [ ] attempted to interest two men in Cleveland, Ohio in buying some Canadian bonds through a contact of theirs in Niagara Falls, New York. Informant stated that the two men from Cleveland were referred to as ANGELO AMATO and JOHNNY DE MARCO.

BU T-1 stated that one of these men came up from Cleveland and spent three days with SAM SALLI and [ ] in an effort to buy the bonds which, according to the informant, were stolen. ANGELO AMATO wanted a 20 per cent guarantee on the profit from these bonds; however, he had been talked down to accept a 12 per cent cut on the deal. Informant stated it was his opinion that SAM SALLI and [ ] were not in position to close this deal after taking ANGELO AMATO to Niagara Falls, New York. Informant stated that AMATO returned to Cleveland without completing the deal concerning the purchase of the Canadian bonds.

JOHNNY DE MARCO as described by BU T-1 was reported as possibly identical with JOHN DE MARCO, aka Baron, FBI No. 1783102, who was one of the delegates to the Apalachin meeting.
